

David Olliver

Political news, Tech news and much more

Rich Family P.I. Confirms: Seth Rich Had Contact With WikiLeaks Prior To His Murder

David Olliver · Friday, May 19th, 2017

Jon Hall via Free Market Shooter

A bombshell report by Marina Marraco of Fox 5 D.C. purports Seth Rich leaked thousands of internal DNC e-mails to WikiLeaks months before his death.

Rod Wheeler, a private investigator hired by the Rich family, claims there's physical evidence on Seth Rich's laptop that confirms he communicated with WikiLeaks prior to being murdered.

For 10 months, D.C. police have labeled Rich's murder as a "robbery gone wrong". However, the only thing stolen from Seth Rich was his life; his attackers didn't bother to take anything else from him. The official police report of the incident even proves that Seth Rich was alive and conscious when officers found him. Did Rich say anything to police when they found him and did their body cameras catch anything of interest at the scene?

#SethRich was alive/awake when cops found him, died at hospital. Cops wore body cameras.

What did he say to cops/what did body cams capture?
pic.twitter.com/johEDplTdG

— /pol/ News Forever (@polNewsForever) May 16, 2017

If there is hard evidence that Rich was in contact with WikiLeaks prior to his death - it must be released.

Sensationalist headlines only go so far. Fake news is a serious woe of the digital age. If these new and stunning claims are true, the evidence must be showcased front and center. If Rich did e-mail WikiLeaks 44,000 internal DNC documents, a clear and defined motive for his murder arises.

Going further, consider this:

In February, John Podesta joined The Washington Post as a contributor.

John Podesta | AP Photo

John Podesta joins The Washington Post as contributing columnist

By PETER STERNE | 02/23/17 09:50 AM EST

The former chairman of Hillary Clinton's 2016 presidential campaign, John Podesta, has joined The Washington Post as a contributing columnist, the paper announced on Thursday.

Podesta, who also served as chief of staff to President Bill Clinton and a counselor to President Barack Obama,

Just hours before it was revealed Rich had been in contact with WikiLeaks, WaPo ran a story (with no basis of proof) that smeared President Trump.

National Security

Trump revealed highly classified information to Russian foreign minister and ambassador

By Greg Miller and Greg Jaffe May 15 at 7:45 PM

President Trump revealed highly classified intel in Oval Office meeting with Russians (Photo: Russian Foreign Ministry/The Washington Post)

President Trump revealed highly classified information to the Russian foreign minister and ambassador in a White House meeting last week, according to current and former U.S. officials, who said Trump's disclosure

Most Read

- 1 Trump revealed highly classified information to Russian foreign minister and ambassador
- 2 U.S. says Syria built crematorium to handle mass prisoner killings
- 3 Germany's far right preaches traditional values. Can a lesbian mother be its new voice?
- 4 Analysis On the campaign trail, Trump was very worried about revealing America's secrets
- 5 Political chaos in Washington is a return on investment for Moscow

The story must be told.
Subscribe to The Washington Post.

Subscribe

However, when the Internet never forgets what you've reported, it's hard to act outraged over something you treated as normal.

The smear Wapo ran was nothing more than an attempt to distract from the Rich bombshell they were aware was coming.

It's glaringly obvious. Wapo - and by extension, Podesta - knew the revelations about Seth Rich's murder was traveling down the pipe.

In a desperate attempt at deflecting, they tried to garner fury over a total non-issue concerning the President. Either that, or the timing between their smear article and the initial reports of Rich being in contact with WikiLeaks is just a staggering coincidence. However, I find that very hard to believe if there is actual evidence of correspondence between WikiLeaks and Rich.

Plainly, we're all crying out for justice. We want an isomer of accountability to enter our political scene. Enough of the clickbait headlines, enough of the sensationalist garbage. If there is evidence, release it. Only then can we demand justice for Rich and hold accountable the perpetrators of this heinous and senseless murder. If the DNC did murder Seth Rich, they're not going to wiggle away from accountability for their actions.

John Podesta: "I'm definitely for making an example of a suspected leaker..." #SethRich #HisNameWasSethRich pic.twitter.com/ytwdqEx2bs

— Jon Hall (@NewsNukeJon) May 16, 2017

This entry was posted on Friday, May 19th, 2017 at 6:24 am and is filed under Politics. You can follow any responses to this entry through the Comments \(RSS\) feed. Responses are currently closed, but you can trackback from your own site.